NEWS: The Corporate Tax Haven Index (CTHI)

The CTHI is a ranking of jurisdiction most complicit in helping multinational corporations underpay corporate income tax. The Corporate Tax Haven Index thoroughly evaluates each jurisdictions tax and financial systems to create a clear picture of the world's greatest enablers of global corporate tax abuse, and to highlight the laws and policies that policymakers can amend to reduce their jurisdiction's enabling of corporate tax abuse. ### The 2021 Conference on Illicit Financial Flows (IFFS) and Debt

The African Forum and Network on Debt and Development (AFRODAD) hosted the 2021 conference on Illicit Financial Flows (IFFs) and debt between the 22nd and 25th of March . The conference sought to explore and to suggest lasting solutions to the problem of IFFs and debt in Africa. This year's Conference was held against the backdrop of a global health pandemic that has evolved into a full-scale health, economic and social crisis that threatens to reverse gains made in poverty and inequality reduction in the past decades.

Tax manifesto-The tax system we want in Uganda

Authored by SEATINI

Every five years, Uganda holds general elections to give citizens a chance to nominate their representatives for different political positions. Each political party or individual aspirant is expected to develop and share their manifestos with their electorates showing their motives/intentions if entrusted with power. However, in Uganda a few if not all political parties in their manifestos pay less attention to how the challenges they wish to address will be financed. Read more

How anonymous whistleblowing curbs tax crimes

Source: The Standard

Tax revenues keep the economic wheel on the move. However, tax crimes and related malpractices dent tax collection efforts thereby occasioning substantial loss of government revenue. Tax malpractices are a global and regional pain. A major setback to this process is unwillingness by various stakeholders such as the public to volunteer information to relevant authorities.
